Napa and Noshes at the Nasher

Connie & Marc Sigel

A Greek tragedy by Euripides may have inspired the Nasher Sculpture Center's latest exhibition, Elliott Hundley: The Bacchae, but there was nothing tragic about the 1,000-person exhibition-opening party the Nasher threw in Elliott Hundley's honor. The night was a feast for the senses: from the awe-inspiring wall installations and freestanding constructions to the wine pairings by guest sommelier Rom Toulon (he of Napa Valley fame) to Wolfgang Puck Catering's finest foie gras and gaufrettes. Among the thousands of guests? The Nasher's Jeremy Strick, and attendees Sharon and Michael Young, Gayle and Paul Stoffel, Betty Blake, and Connie and Marc Sigel.
