

Sensory-Friendly Family Fun

It's a Material World!

Wednesday, April 18 / 9 – 11 a.m.

FREE admission for all participants. Siblings are welcome. Registration requested.

Presented in collaboration with the School of Occupational Therapy, Texas Woman's University.

Enjoy a morning in the garden and galleries of the Nasher Sculpture Center before we open to the public. Explore and discover art through active and quiet learning activities geared for children with sensory processing challenges.

Students will learn about our theme of Materials through:

- Scavenger Hunts
- Art-making Activities
- Interactive Performance
- Sensory Quiet Room facilitated by occupational therapy students from Texas Woman's University
- Activity tables also offered by community partners including Dallas Arboretum, Dallas Public Library and Dallas Zoo.

Register

<http://www.nashersculpturecenter.org/engage/event?id=579>

Registration is FREE! All registrants will receive parking information and an event-specific social story.

Questions?

Contact Lynda Wilbur at lwilbur@nashersculpturecenter.org

Download a social story about visiting the Nasher:

<http://www.nashersculpturecenter.org/visit/accessibility>

Nasher Sculpture Center

2001 Flora Street in the Downtown Dallas Arts District

